

Andrew Bailey's 'shambolic' performance exposed as BoE 'woefully behind the curve'

EXCLUSIVE: A finance expert has said you only have to look at the US to see how 'woefully behind the curve' the Bank of England is in its battle with inflation.

By JON KING
09:30, Wed, Sep 20, 2023 | UPDATED: 10:45, Wed, Sep 20, 2023

Facebook Twitter LinkedIn Pinterest Email BOOKMARK

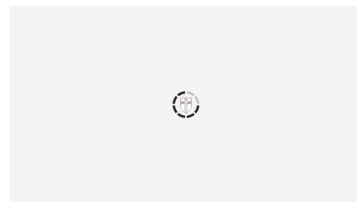

Andrew Bailey's Bank of England is 'woefully behind the curve', a finance expert says. (Image: Getty)

Bank of England Governor Andrew Bailey's performance is "shambolic" and the BoE is "woefully behind the curve" on inflation, experts have said.

The scathing criticism comes as Consumer Prices Index (CPI) inflation was 6.7 percent in August, down from 6.8 percent in July, despite widespread expectations it could increase as rising oil prices fed into higher costs at forecourts.

Chancellor Jeremy Hunt has welcomed the surprise fall announced by the Office for National Statistics on Wednesday (September 20).

But some finance experts have criticised Britain's central bank for its record on bringing prices down ahead of the BoE's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC), announcing its next interest rate move on Thursday (September 21).

Most economists predict another rate rise, although the fall in inflation might make the choice for policymakers less clear cut. Business groups have called for the Bank to hold interest rates at 5.25 percent.

READ MORE... Rishi Sunak to delay ban on sale of petrol and diesel cars by five years

Amit Patel, adviser at Welling-based Trinity Finance, told Express.co.uk Mr Bailey is in over his head, adding: "The performance of the Bank of England during the current cost of living crisis has been shambolic right from the start.

"On the back of the inflation data released this morning, the Monetary Policy Committee must now pause increasing the base rate. If it doesn't, it will show how out of touch it is with the UK economy."

Wes Wilkes, CEO at Net-Worth NTWRK, said: "It's good to see inflation, in particular core inflation, moving in the right direction. However, you only have to look at the US to see how woefully behind the curve the Bank of England is in this inflationary fight.

"I would expect a very simple internal investigation on policy response would mean Andrew Bailey goes."

He pointed to "a catalogue of errors" from over-stimulating the economy in the Bank's Covid response, to attempts to tighten with rates but still print money through quantitative easing and then raising rates in "a limp manner".

Mr Wilkes said: "This is why we still have nearly double the inflationary rate of that in the US and we're almost 19 months into the process and miles away from [the BoE inflation target of] 2 percent."

The US inflation rate rose to 3.7 percent in August, up from 3.2 percent the month before.

Don't miss...
'Meghan is high and mighty and we cannot wait for her to go,' says neighbour [OPINION]
Petition against Labour's 'disastrous' 20mph speed limit in Wales hits 150k [REPORT]
Meghan and Harry face years until rift with 'hurt' Kate heals [LATEST]

Inflation dropped in August, against market expectations of a rise. (Image: Getty)

Meanwhile, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) on Tuesday said it expects UK inflation of 7.2 percent for 2023, increasing its previous forecast of 6.9 percent from June.

Most read in Personal Finance

- 1 Bank increases interest on easy access savings account to 'excellent' 5.11%
- 2 Yorkshire Building Society launches 'competitive' saver with 6% interest
- 3 British Gas chief on £4.5million salary issues startling verdict on his wage
- 4 Time running out to escape forgotten tax that's twice as bad as inheritance tax
- 5 Experts debunk six energy saving myths - including 'false' thermostat belief

Latest videos

- Freddie Mercury's 'Darth Vader' on how Star Wars George Lucas shut down iconic Queen stunt
- This Morning's Dermot O'Leary issues apology after song broadcasts rude mood live on air
- Ronnie O'Sullivan backed to retire after World Snooker Championship with star fed up
- Japan makes historic moon landing after 20 minutes of 'terror' before touchdown
- 'I'm a dentist - the correct number of times to brush your teeth is not two, that's a myth'

Income tax shock as 650,000 more state pensioners face HMRC bill from April

These banks are offering up to £185 to switch plus 7% interest on savings

TV licence fee fury grows as petition demands BBC levy is abolished once and for all

Martin Lewis warning over 'forgotten utility' - and how you can save £300 on the bill

Savings expert shares key things you can do to unlock interest rates above 6%

Inheritance tax expert's view on whether HMRC will keep raking in your money from levy

Incredible moment British Gas chief says it's impossible to justify his £4.5million wage

Bank increases interest to 'excellent' 5.11% on savings account

DWP alert as state pension increase could leave you with £84 a month

DWP and HMRC warning as pensioners urged to act fast before key deadline hits

Third of UK adults to run out of money before the end of January

Britain saw inflation average 9.1 percent over the year in 2022, with a peak of 11.1 percent.

This year's forecast 7.2 percent rate would be the highest rate across the G7 and the third highest across the G20. Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and Mr Hunt have pledged to halve inflation by the end of the year.

The OECD held its forecast of UK growth in 2023 at 0.3 percent for the year, predicted to be the second weakest among the G7 and third weakest among the G20.

Julian Jessop, Economics Fellow at free market think tank, the Institute of Economic Affairs, said the BoE should have hit the pause button on interest rate rises several meetings ago to assess the full impact of the "tight squeeze" already in place.

He added: "Even if the MPC does decide to hike one more time this week, they should signal that rates are then on hold for a long period – and that the next move is just as likely to be a cut."

Become an Express Premium member

- Support fearless journalism
- Read The Daily Express online, advert free
- Get super-fast page loading

EXPRESS PREMIUM

Starts 30 day FREE trial

TRENDING

Bank increases interest on easy access savings account to 'excellent' 5.11%

Yorkshire Building Society launches 'competitive' saver with 6% interest

British Gas chief on £4.5million salary issues startling verdict on his wage

"I can still see a further increase of 0.25 [percentage points] tomorrow, and, if further rate increases follow in October, then the recession we have so far dodged will hit us like a wrecking ball."

Gary Bush, a financial adviser at MortgageShop.com said the lower inflation figure is "fantastic" news, adding: "This is further evidence that the Bank of England needs to pause its increases and give UK mortgage holders a break.

"It's their slow actions in the first place that put us in this position post-pandemic."

RELATED NEWS

- John 58 · SEPTEMBER 20, 2023
Increasing interest rates does not stop inflation caused by increasing energy and fuel costs. It makes it worse for us all.
REPLY 1 · 0
  - Incendary · SEPTEMBER 22, 2023
Reply to John 58
Government can't sacrifice resources and go to war without causing inflation. BoE is only the messenger.
REPLY 0
  - ArthurMcKevitt1 · SEPTEMBER 20, 2023
Inflation is still soaring and the new buzz word is shrinkflation. There used to be eight biscuits in pack, now there is six. What is the inflation no regarding that, any taxes? Then there is the Central Banks printing lots of excess monies from thin air. Will the Fed put up rates today to save the economy or do nothing and prop the markets. It's balancing on a knife edge, either way the future doesn't look good.
REPLY 0
  - gunnar · SEPTEMBER 20, 2023
Blame it on BoE, EU, Covid, Ukraine war- or change this government. EDITED
REPLY 0
- LOAD MORE COMMENTS

Powered by viafoura

£10,000 - that's how much it will cost you to die. Can you afford it?

DWP urged to give low income pensioners an automatic £3,900 cash boost

Brexiters warned of 'pension pitfalls' that may leave you thousands worse off in retirement

House prices falling at fastest rate in 12 years, official data indicates

The 'little known ISA secret' that will stop you missing out on big tax-free savings

Savers missing out on over £400 boost - thousands urged to 'take action' now

Energy providers to pass on £9.3million onto customers - check if you can claim

Facebook Marketplace rife with suspected scams after Martin Lewis warning

Premium Bonds customer confused by prize form as they try to collect December winnings

DWP PIP payments more common in these areas as joblessness linked to poor health

Inflation warning for savers after ECONOMISTS GAVE IT... can claim NI credits

Tax-free state pension demands surge as Jeremy Hunt and DWP face fresh calls

I'm a savings expert and you need to watch out for this trick when choosing new account

Today's inflation jump is a blip as price growth will plunge to 1.5% in May

Joe Biden pledges to slash overdraft fees in half to kill 'cash cow' of bankers

Law & Order creator Dick Wolf has an enormous net worth after series' success

Worst airline for delays revealed as £1.2m compensation paid to its passengers

Interest rates: Expert predictions on what rise means for savers over the next year

Inflation back on the rise after unexpected plunge in previous report sparked hope

Martin Lewis shares how to 'check and challenge' your council tax as fan gets £7k refund

Car insurance rises again to eye watering average of £995 - how to get best rates

Cheap petrol scheme will let drivers save hundreds with lowest prices in their area

Debt advice website's visitor numbers more than doubled on Christmas Day

DWP state pension petition demands £540 weekly payments to people over 60

Add your reply

ArthurMcKevitt · 11 SEPTEMBER 20, 2023

Inflation is still soaring and the new buzz word is shrinkflation. There used to be eight biscuits in a pack, now there is six. What is the inflation no regarding that, any takers? Then there is the Central Bank printing lots of excess monies from thin air. Will the Fed put up rates today to save the economy or do nothing and prop the markets. It's balancing on a knife edge, either way the future doesn't look good.

REPLY · 0

gunnar · 11 SEPTEMBER 20, 2023

Blame it on BoE, EU, Covid, Ukraine war- or change this government. EDITED

REPLY · 0

LOAD MORE COMMENTS

Powered by viafoura

Martin Lewis shares how to 'check and challenge' your council tax as fan gets £7k refund

Car insurance rises again to eye watering average of £995 - how to get best rates

Cheap petrol scheme will let drivers save hundreds with lowest prices in their area

Debt advice website's visitor numbers more than doubled on Christmas Day

DWP state pension petition demands £340 weekly payments to people over 60

Three banks slash mortgage rates today in 'fantastic news' for market sends first £5,000 back payment letters

Average pension pot is £107,000 - here's what you really need

Time running out to escape forgotten tax that's 'twice as bad as inheritance tax'

NEWS	SHOWS& TV	COMMENT	ENTERTAINMENT	EXPRESS.CO.UK	SEARCH
UK	TV & Radio	Express Comment	Films	Play Express	Search: <input type="text"/>
World	Celebrity News	Columnists	Music	Wets	CONNECT WITH US
Politics	SPORT	FINANCE	Books	Apps	Facebook
Royal	Football	City & Business	Theatre	Puzzles	Twitter
US	Tennis	Personal Finance	Gaming	Horoscopes	Instagram
Weather	Transfer news	The Crusader	Express Wins	Discount codes	YouTube
Science	Premier League	TRAVEL	LIFE & STYLE	Partner Stories	WhatsApp
Ward	Manchester United	Travel News	Style	Shop	TODAY'S PAPER
History	Liverpool	UK	Diets	Hopsonro Beer Club	Friday, 19th January 2024
Malware	Arsenal	Europe	Health	Paper	See today's front and back pages, download the newspaper, order delivery, place subscriptions and more. Visit our archive.
Sunday	Chelsea	America	Garden	Stamp	19th JAN 2024
Obituaries	Tottenham	Africa	Property	Site Archive	19th JAN 2024
LATEST NEWS	Hotspur	Asia	Liability	About Us	19th JAN 2024
Brexit	Manchester City	China	Food	Social Media	19th JAN 2024
European Union	West Ham	City breaks	Cars	Journalists	19th JAN 2024
Theresa May	Everton	Beach Holidays	Tech	How to Complain	19th JAN 2024
Angela Merkel	Celtic	EXPRESS RATED	Beauty Box	Report a Tech Issue	19th JAN 2024
Donald Trump	Rangers	Best VPN	Liability	Advertising	19th JAN 2024
The Queen	FT	Best Mattress	Subscription	Advertise	19th JAN 2024
Kate Middleton	Buzz	Best Dating Sites	Best UK Broadband Deals	Cookie Settings	19th JAN 2024
Meghan Markle	LFC	Best UK Broadband Deals	Freeview Samsung	Privacy Policy	19th JAN 2024
Diesel	Cricket	Freeview Samsung	Sky	Cookie Policy	19th JAN 2024
Cancer	Rugby	Sky	Android	Terms & Conditions	19th JAN 2024
Diabetes	Golf	Apple	Black Friday	Community Standards	19th JAN 2024
Dementia	NFL	Black Friday		Developed by NetR42	19th JAN 2024
YouTube	Racing			Syndication and Licensing	19th JAN 2024
InYourArea	NBA			Classifications and Corrections	19th JAN 2024
mynewsassistant					19th JAN 2024